

Wanted:

100 People Who Care

Who? People who love the small towns of Northeast Kansas and want to see the caring community lifestyle continue for future generations.

What? We are building a Community Fund for the Caring Community Foundation. The Community Fund will exist into perpetuity, providing support for emerging community needs and fundamental operating costs of the Caring Community Foundation.

As of July 2017, the Caring Community Foundation has been entrusted with the stewardship of 12 funds amounting to over $525,000. These funds each provide charitable support to specific identified community needs including scholarship, education, sports, healthcare, and other kinds of community assistance. The Caring Community Foundation helps keep resources in our communities and helps put resources to work in our communities. We're just getting started. This summer we launched our first grant for community revitalization. Our Community Fund is less than $20,000. That's not much to generate support for operations and emerging community needs. Individually, our efforts may seem small but together we can help secure the future for our communities.

We need 100 People Who Care for the rural communities in Pottawatomie, Marshall, Nemaha and Jackson Counties, to commit to donating $4000 by the end of 2020, that's $1000 each year for four years beginning in 2017. That amounts to $400,000 by 2020 for an endowed permanent fund that will be put to work for our communities forever.

The donations are tax deductible and there will be public recognition, but these 100 individuals or organizations are special people, people with heart, committed to their hometown communities and to protecting hometown resources for future generations.

100 People Who Care. For Community. Forever.
